

Florida Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics
INCORPORATED IN FLORIDA

COMMITTEE STATEMENT: ENVIRONMENTAL THREAT COMMITTEE

FCAAP's Environmental Threat Committee (ETC) exists to address environmental threats, crises, and disasters, both acute and chronic, natural and man-made, which negatively impact child health, development, and well-being. The ETC will promote pediatric provider education and resources to help families and communities prepare for such threats, mitigate risk, respond to crises, and recover or adapt to on-going changes. The ETC mission includes promotion of personal and practice-based actions, as well as community and regional advocacy to better protect children and families from environmental threats.
